Network Installation Instructions for GastroPlus v9.7

Before you begin

In order to install GastroPlus, you must have Administrative privileges.

A network installation of GastroPlus will require access to a Flexera License Server in order for the application to run.

Installation

If you were provided with an individual download, the downloaded file will be a compressed zip file. Extract this file to a convenient location such as your desktop. The files created from extracting the downloaded file should be similar to the example below. To begin the installation, double click on the "setup.exe" file.
