

JOB APPLICANT AND CANDIDATE PRIVACY NOTICE

As part of any recruitment process, Simulation Plus (including its affiliates) collects and processes personal data relating to job applicants and candidates, as a controller. Simulations Plus is committed to being transparent about how it collects and uses that personal data and to meeting its personal data protection obligations.

This privacy notice does not imply in any way any contract of employment or contract for services or any other formal relationship between you and Simulations Plus, Inc.

What information we collect

During the recruitment and application process, we will collect personal information about you, either from you directly or from third parties with your approval, which may include the following:

- Identifying and contact information, such as your full name, email address, physical address, telephone number, date of birth, government identification number, and other contact information;
- Professional and employment information, such as a resume or CV, a cover letter, employment history, current levels of work remuneration, other work experience, professional references, your work-permit status, your social media profiles, or other information about your professional background;
- Educational (including technical training) information, such as your school history, your qualifications and certifications, and any other information related to your education;
- Citizenship information, such as your visa and right-to-work status;
- Information received from third parties, such as from recruiters and third party career websites, the results of a professional-reference check or background check (including criminal records check), and the information we receive from someone who refers you for a position;
- Equal opportunities monitoring information, including sensitive information you voluntarily provide during the recruitment process, such as demographic information or information about your gender, race, ethnicity, and any disabilities;
- Publicly available information that helps us make a determination on your candidacy, such as information from your social media profiles; and
- Any other personal information you choose to submit to us as part of your application.

How we handle the personal data of applicants and candidates and categories of third parties with whom we share the personal data of applicants and candidates

The personal data we collect in this process will be stored in an electronic format (including email) on our internal IT systems and external cloud storage and also on paper within our HR Department. Your information may be shared internally for recruitment purposes with our recruiting managers, department managers, HR and IT team strictly for decision-making purposes, and shared with third party cloud storage provider for cloud storage (e.g., Microsoft Corporation). Your personal data may be transferred by you or an affiliate of SLP within the European Economic Area (EEA) to Simulations Plus offices located outside of the EEA for purposes of the job application and recruitment processes. Simulations Plus will use appropriate technical and organization measures to safeguard your personal information during such transfer, including use of Standard Contractual Clauses or other acceptable transfer mechanism required under applicable law. Simulations Plus appoints Lixoft SAS as its designated EU representative for purposes of GDPR requirements (Lixoft.com). We will protect such personal data through internal controls and policies, and reasonable security measures for protecting your personal data from being lost, accidentally destroyed, misused, or subject to unauthorized access.

Simulations Plus does not and will not sell or share your personal data provided to us. Note that this does not include "sharing" with vendors or other third parties for a specified and limited business purpose such as a third-party cloud storage provider used by Simulations Plus to store its data in the ordinary course of business.

Accessibility to data subjects with disabilities. If you have a disability which prevents access to this privacy notice, you may, or may have your authorized representative, contact Simulations Plus using the contact information below to be provided a copy of this privacy notice in an alternative format.

Special categories of personal data

To the extent that a special category of personal data (as defined by applicable data protection law) is collected from you for purposes of the job application process involving you, and to the extent required by applicable law, we will do so if you have given explicit consent to the processing of such personal data for purposes of the job application process, except where prohibited by applicable law; and/or processing is necessary for the purposes of carrying out the obligations and exercising specific rights of Simulations Plus or you in the field of employment and social security and social protection law in so far as it is authorized by applicable law, and pursuant to the appropriate safeguards for your personal data and your fundamental rights to your personal data as provided by applicable law.

How long we retain your personal data

We will retain your personal data for a period of up to 18 months after we have communicated to you our decision about whether to hire you for the job opportunity(s) for which you showed interest. We retain the information for that period (a) so that we can show, in the event of a legal claim, that we have complied with laws against employment discrimination; and (b) If your application is unsuccessful, we may keep your personal data on file for any suitable employment opportunities that meet your qualifications that become available during that period. After this period, we will securely destroy your personal data subject to and in accordance with the applicable laws and regulations.

Your personal data privacy rights

Depending on the applicable personal data protection law, as a data subject, you have a number of rights, including the following:

- You have the right to request access to your personal data that we hold on you. You have the right to be informed about the collection and use by Simulations Plus, and request copies, of your personal data.
- You have the right to request us to cease processing your personal data. You have the right to request the restriction of our processing of your personal data, but this right may be subject to exemptions based on applicable laws.
- You have the right to request us to delete your personal data in our possession. You have the right to request that your personal data be deleted by us, but this right may be subject to exemptions based on applicable laws.
- You have the right to request us to change any incorrect or incomplete personal data we hold on you. You have the right to request inaccurate or outdated personal information of yours which we process be updated or corrected.
- You have the right to request the transfer of your personal data to another party. You have the right to ask for your personal data to be transferred to another controller or provided to them in a machine-readable electronic format.
- You have the right to request us to provide more information on the balance between our legitimate interests in processing your personal data (see table above) and your personal data rights.
- You have the right not to be discriminated against by Simulations Plus by exercising your personal data privacy rights. Simulations Plus is required to inform you if it uses automated decision-making and profiling of you using your personal data. You have the right to object if Simulations Plus uses automated decision-making and profiling of you using your personal data.

If you have consented to the use of your personal data by Simulations Plus, you have the right to withdraw such consent. Note that by withdrawing your consent, it does not affect the right of Simulations Plus to process your personal data based on your consent prior to your withdrawal of your consent.

If you would like to exercise any of these rights or have any queries with the privacy notice, please contact: privacy@simulations-plus.com; or

To make a request to exercise a personal data privacy right of yours, you need to contact us with at least verification of your identity, and details about the personal data privacy right that you are exercising, including the applicable law governing your personal data privacy rights (such as by identifying the region in which you live). You may authorize a third-party agent to exercise your personal data privacy rights. Applicable data protection laws require Simulations Plus to verify the identity of you, or request proof from a third-party agent representing that such agent is making the request on your behalf, in the process of responding to a request by you or on your behalf to exercise a personal data privacy right of yours. To verify your identity, Simulations Plus will ask you or your authorized representative questions that relate to the information that you provided to Simulations Plus. Some examples include asking a series of questions about your personal data such as what is your date of birth, home address, or telephone number, as a basic level of verification. Simulations Plus may also verify your identity by asking you for the credentials, such as login information, used by you when you login to the Job Applicant page on the website of Simulations Plus. Upon verification, we will process the request in accordance with the timelines and requirements under the applicable data privacy laws.

This privacy notice does not imply in any way any contract of employment or contract for services or any other relationship between you and Simulations Plus.

If your personal data is governed by the General Data Protection Regulation ("GDPR") or other applicable data privacy law you have the right to bring a complaint about the processing of your personal data by Simulations Plus to the relevant supervisory authority, which has the power to enforce the GDPR or the other applicable data privacy law. In accordance with Article 77 GDPR, a data subject has the right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority in the Member State of his or her habitual residence, place of work, or of the alleged infringement of the GDPR.

How we manage updates to this policy

From time to time, Simulations Plus may need to revise this Job Applicant and Candidate Privacy Policy. Should we do so, we will also change the date indicated below. We encourage you to check back at this website periodically, in order to be aware of the most recent version of the Job Applicant and Candidate Privacy Policy.
